ACPA requires that all individuals involved in planning or presenting (e.g. faculty, abstract authors and co-authors), or any other person in control of content for accredited continuing education activities sponsored or jointly sponsored by ACPA must disclose all financial relationships with ineligible companies (including those of immediate family members).

The individual must disclose all financial relationships with ineligible companies which have existed within the last 24 months, by providing the name of the ineligible company and the nature of the financial relationship. An ineligible company is any entity whose primary business is producing, marketing, selling, re-selling, or distributing healthcare products used by or on patients. Adriane L. Baylis, PhD, CCC-SLP

President of the Board

American Cleft Palate Craniofacial Association

Dear Colleagues and Members of the ACPA Community,

On behalf of the Board of Directors of ACPA, I would like to welcome you to our 2024 Annual Meeting!

We hope that you are as excited as we are to learn, reunite with colleagues and former trainees, and meet the “giants” of our field. The ACPA Annual Meeting truly exemplifies the term “community” – creating a feeling of fellowship with others, as a result of sharing common attitudes, interests, and goals.

The Program Task Force has been hard at work to ensure that this meeting experience exceeds your expectations and leads to new professional networks, research collaborations, and positive changes in your clinical practice. The Task Force has created a robust program which includes captivating speakers, hot topics, and cutting-edge research in our field. Whether you are attending to gain new knowledge, present your research, or connect with peers, we have something for everyone at this event.

As we seek to align our programmatic efforts with ACPA's strategic plan, we're pleased that we've implemented several new initiatives within this meeting. Expect to see a larger focus on interdisciplinary team care, quality improvement, and building the ACPA community, including our Pre-Conference Symposium, “Implementing Research and Quality Improvement in Your Cleft Palate and Craniofacial Team.” We are also trialing a new approach to our discussion forums, focusing on interdisciplinary collaboration vs discipline-specific meetings. We are also proud to welcome three keynote speakers to this year's meeting, who offer unique experiences and insights on complex topics, and represent affected individuals. This is something ACPA seeks to continue to emphasize, as we showcase diverse voices and viewpoints.

The Board is grateful for the work of the entire 2024 Program Task Force, led by Steven Goudy, MD, and co-chair, Chelsea Sommer, PhD, CCC-SLP, and the support of Caitlyn Reinauer and Dianna Metzler from the ACPA National Office Staff. We're also grateful to ASCFS President William Hoffman, MD for leading the craniofacial abstract reviews. We would also like to thank ACPA Executive Director Adam Levy, CAE, and the entire ACPA National Office team, including Charlene Bell, Erin Brenneman, and Lauren Mowles, who work tirelessly to deliver high-quality events and services for our members, all while helping drive our organization toward a strong future aligned with ACPA's vision and mission.

Your presence and active participation at this event will contribute significantly to our collective success, and to the continued improvement of cleft and craniofacial care. We look forward to seeing many familiar faces this week, and to meeting our new members for the first time. We encourage those who have been to the Annual Meeting before to welcome our new attendees, to invite them into your conversations, and to ensure the future of our organization is strong. Welcome to Denver!

Sincerely,

Steven Goudy MD, MBA, FACS

Program Task Force Chair, 2024

American Cleft Palate Craniofacial Association

Welcome to ACPA's 2024 Annual Meeting!

On behalf of the 2024 Program Task Force, including my esteemed co-chair Chelsea Sommer, it is my pleasure to extend to you a warm welcome to Denver. I'm excited to witness the exchange of knowledge, ideas, and innovation that will undoubtedly enrich our understanding and practice in the field of cleft and craniofacial care.

This conference serves as a platform for healthcare professionals, researchers, educators, and students to come together to discuss the latest advancements, challenges, and opportunities in our ever-evolving landscape. With a diverse range of sessions, workshops, and presentations, we aim to foster interdisciplinary collaboration and facilitate the dissemination of cutting-edge research.

The Task Force has worked diligently to add value by including a Quality Improvement aspect to the meeting, as well as ensuring diverse voices and viewpoints are heard. This includes a focus on the voices of affected individuals. As participants, you play a crucial role in shaping the dialogue and driving progress within our field. Your contributions, whether through insightful presentations, engaging discussions, or networking opportunities, are invaluable in advancing the frontiers of science and improving Team Care.

In addition to the educational programming, we've implemented several changes to our socially oriented gatherings. This includes our new Discussion Forums, focused on issues facing our community in real time, and rooted in interdisciplinary care. In addition to our welcome reception, I'm excited to spend our closing evening together in a festive, closing night celebration. We encourage you to take full advantage of these occasions to connect with fellow professionals, forge new collaborations, and lasting friendships.

I would like to express my gratitude to our keynote speakers, who are truly trailblazers in their work to reduce stigma and enhance opportunity for those affected by craniofacial conditions. And to our speakers, supporters, and the ACPA staff for their dedication and hard work in making this conference possible.

I hope that you find the conference intellectually stimulating, professionally rewarding, and personally fulfilling. May it inspire you to continue your pursuit of excellence in your respective fields and drive positive change in cleft and craniofacial care.

Warm regards,

2024 International Partner

Associação Brasileira de Fissuras Lábio Palatinas

In 2019, ACPA began inviting allied organizations through the International Partner initiative, to collaborate more frequently in between the meetings of the International Cleft Congress. We are honored that the Associação Brasileira de Fissuras Lábio Palatinas will be joining us as the International Partner at this year's Annual Meeting.

A note from Dr. Geza Urmenyi, President of Brazilian Association of Cleft Lip and Palate (ABFLP):
It is with great enthusiasm that the Brazilian Association of Cleft Lip and Palate (ABFLP) expresses its sincere gratitude to the American Cleft Palate Craniofacial Association (ACPA) for the invitation to participate in the 2024 Annual Meeting in Denver, Colorado.

This event is of utmost importance to the community that treats patients with cleft lip and palate, and ABFLP feels honored to be part of it. Associations dedicated to the treatment of clefts play a crucial role in organizing and disseminating scientific events, significantly contributing to the education and training of professionals involved. ABFLP firmly believes in the importance of strengthening integration among these associations globally, in order to create an effective network for communication and sharing of information that benefits everyone.

ABFLP was founded in 1969 and its main objective is to bring together specialists interested in the care and development of children and adults with cleft lip, cleft palate, and craniofacial anomalies, as well as their families. Additionally, it seeks to promote scientific exchange with other related associations through courses, conferences, lectures, and meetings, as well as to support research and the sharing of knowledge to continuously advance in the field. ABFLP takes this opportunity to express its sincere gratitude to Smile Train for its continuous partnership over 19 years, providing support for events and enabling the participation of renowned national and international guests.

ABFLP is proud to hold the National Congress of Cleft Lip and Palate annually, and to have had the honor of hosting the World Congress in Fortaleza, Brazil, in 2009. In 2016, it organized the first South American Congress of Cleft Lip and Palate, an event that gave rise to LATICFA, the Latin American Association of Cleft Lip and Palate.

It is with immense pleasure that ABFLP invites everyone to the next Brazilian Congress, which will take place from August 29th to 31st in Campinas, São Paulo. This will be a unique event, held in collaboration between ABFLP, LATICFA, and ABCCMF (Brazilian Association of Craniomaxillofacial Surgery). For more information, please visit our website at www.abflp.org.br or www.abccmf.org.br/congress. ABFLP looks forward to this memorable event, where we will have the opportunity to share enriching knowledge and experiences. We count on the participation and contribution of all.

Geza Urmenyi

President of Brazilian Association of Cleft Lip and Palate (ABFLP)
